Our medical tourism operation proposes domestic and overseas tours and training trips

Domestic and overseas tours, academic conferences, and training trips specifically geared towards qualified healthcare professionals are proposed by Wing Tourism. We also support efforts to ensure the safety and security of each and every physician, pharmacist, and nurse in terms of everything from coordinating matters of safety and pleasure with local officials and making arrangements for interpretation services, accommodations, modes of transportation, and tour guides.

With the help of our staff specialists, we focus on organizing, planning, and operating medical tours, all kinds of international conferences, pharmaceutical tours, and more and on making medical tourism possible.

Our efforts at globalization through the pairing of medicine and tourism in response to developments in the globalization of medicine itself have resulted in the expansion of markets in various countries, primarily in Asia and elsewhere. In order to provide optimal services through travel agencies, insurance agencies, interpreters, and other service providers in the field of medicine, we seek to ease regulations as required and cultivate professionals working in the fields of medicine and nursing in collaboration with other countries, such as in terms of the issuance of medical-stay visas and the granting of licenses to enable foreign doctors and nurses to provide medical care.

Globalization of medical tourism and medicine

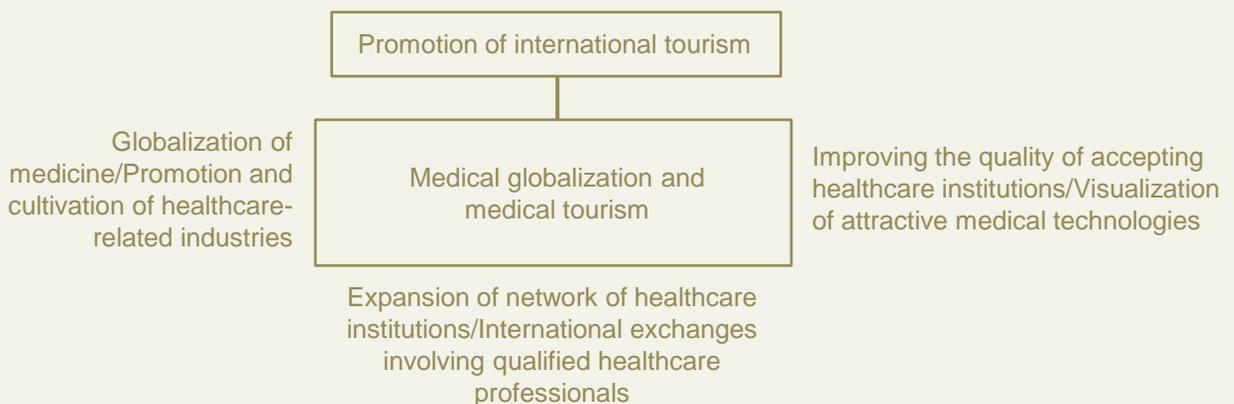

In examining developments in medicine, we see that there are increasing numbers of foreign nationals visiting Japan to undergo medical checkups and procedures in the hope of being treated at a healthcare institution in Japan. In line with this trend, it can be expected that there will be an increase in the demand for a new form of tourism (medical tourism), contributions to international exchange will be made, and local economies will be stimulated. To this end, we will strategically promote means of passage to be taken by foreign patients, the development of hospitality settings, and the diversification of and addition of value to medical tourism tours.

Over the last two decades, we have been referring, dispatching, educating, and training physicians, nurses, and other healthcare professionals in the field of medicine. We are a company that reinforces activities, support services, and consulting work through the tourism industry based on the use of personnel found in the field of healthcare and are committed to further expanding our personnel business and the scope of our management support initiatives as carried out at healthcare institutions and by engaging in other such operations.

What is medical tourism?

In order to promote medical tourism with a focus on treatment, it will be necessary to accept patients from overseas and to endeavor to forge and develop ties with overseas healthcare institutions to facilitate this process.

By implementing promotional programs in overseas markets through collaboration with domestic and overseas travel agencies and other such entities in the field of medicine, which is expected to undergo globalization in the years to come, and inviting foreign patients to take advantage of what we have to offer through collaborative efforts with healthcare institutions and other such organizations, we will contribute to the spread of medical tourism and allow medical tourism to become more diversified and more capable of delivering added value.
